ABE MILLER'S TRUE RECORD

Make-Believe Stories Circulated By Democrats a Farce.

HOLDS FOUR HONORABLE DISCHARGES

Was Always in the Midst of Battle Until Wounded, When He Was Sent Home to Die.

As some of the democratic mouthpieces attempted to give A. V. Miller's war record, and made such an intentional botch of it, it is our duty to give to the public the true facts of Mr. Miller's war record as they happened.

"In 1861 I enlisted in the Bellefonte Fencibles, and was the second man enlisted. This company afterwards became Company H, 2nd Regiment. It was mustered at Lincoln's first call for troops. I afterward served almost two years in Company E, 1st Pennsylvania cavalry. I had an arm and two ribs broken in the cavalry service, and on December 28th, 1863, was discharged from the cavalry, owing to my disabilities. I was unable to mount a horse.

"On February 24th, 1864, I enlisted as a private in the 184th Pa. Vol. for three years in Company D, and was discharged May 11th for promotion to fir t lieutenant of Co. E.

The regiment was organized on the 12th of May and sent to the front on the 14th. I was not mustered as a first lieutenant, but Governor Curtin met me at Washingington and sent me with Co. E, to be mustered at the front. I was assigned to the second brigade, second division and second army corps, under Brigade Commander Joshua T. Owens. I was in every engagement from Bethsada church to in front of Pet ers' urg. On June 23d I was wounded through the shoulder by a Minie-ball, and shortly afterward was hit in the face with a piece of shell, carrying away part of my lower jaw and knocking out some of my teeth. I was sent to the hospital, and after being there several days was sent home, as the physicians thought I was going to die. This is the whole of my war record.

I have four honorable discharges. I never belonged to Company I, and never had a captain's commission nor never wore a captain's shoulder straps. I was a private all my life, with the exception of the time when Governor Curtin sent me to the front as a first lieutenant. That was the only commission I ever had."

A. V. MILLER.

This is quite different from what the democtic organs would have you believe and still it is only a fair example of the quality of articles published by them. While there is no doubt but that they knew the correct war record, of course they didn't want it say anything to the credit of Mr. Miller; and they purposely botched up the article in the hope that it would mislead some unsuspecting voter.

Probably they will now come out and say that it was only a mistake, and one that cannot be overlooked. When news papers commence to publish articles which are false all through, it is time they are called down; and severely at that, too.

It was a futile attempt to blast an honest man and true soldier's character; and while probably for a few moments it might have caused some doubt, it in the end has made many more friends for Mr. Miller than he ever had before. The Democrat should crawl into a hole and drag the Democratic candidates in with it. That they have been defeated in their unscrupulous attempt is apparent to everyone, and the sooner they let up in their dirty work the better it will be for their own candidates.

Westminster Hazing Case.

New Wilmington, Pa. Oct. 14.—Ten of the students who signed the paper petitioning the faculty of Westminster college to immediately take action on the hazing of Mabon, have left school. Mr. Ursman of Wheeling, who received the coat of lampblack at the hands of the hazers, left this morning. It seems to be the intention of the faculty to allow the matter to drop but Mabon says he will not withdraw his charges unless the hazers are expelled. Mabon is receiving financial backing from a prominent insurance agent and is being urged by the leading people to push his charges.

IN this sense, to say that the quantity of money regulates prices is only the same thing to say of any article that is bought or sold that its quantity is a material factor is determining its value.—A Chapter in Standard Money, Giffen.

A TRUE SOLDIER.

So Say Veterans Who Were There.

Listen to the statement of an old soldier, who fought side by side with A. V. Milller. He was with him when he was wounded, and this statement alone is enough to satisfy any mind that may have been fooled by the false charges that have been trumped up against him. This old soldier says:

"On March 11, 1864, I enlisted in Co. E, 184th Pa. Vol. A. V. Miller was chief recruiting officer of this company, assisted by Joseph Thomas, Henry Pennington and Calvin Wolfe. We were taken to Harrisburg and put into Camp Curtin. After we had been there for five days I received a local bounty and also a ten day furlough home. Upon returning to Harrisburg, A. V. Miller came to me and asked how much bounty I had received. I told him what I had gotten, which was $240. He then informed me that I had been cheated out of $60. We then reported in a body to headquarters, and Abe Miller went with us to find out where this money had gone, and he reported the matter to Governor Curtin. In the presence of the whole company, Col. John H. Stover told Governor Curtin that he would make everything right, and I, as orderly to the Colnel, called A. V. Miller, Calvin Wolfe, Joseph Thomas and Henry Pennington into his (Stover's) quarters. Col. Stover said: "Boys, you must go into this deal with me, and make what we can out of these soldiers. We can make from $100 to $150 out of each man."

A. V. Miller said: "No, sir; I will not have anything to do with such a deal. I have told my boys when I enlisted them that I would stick to them to the end, and I intend to do so."

To this Col. Stover said: "If you don't stand by us you will have trouble in getting your commission."

"Commission or no commission," replied Mr. Miller, "I will stand by the boys."

The result was, that when the captain of the company was elected, every man wanted Miller elected; but Col. Stover had John B. McCabe "fixed" for that position.

If ever there was a true soldier in that company, it was A. V. Miller. We know that through all the engagements we went through up until he was wounded, A. V. Miller was the only commander in the regiment to look after the boys. On the 23d of June, 1864, in front of Petersburg, he was knocked down by a shell and his lower jaw shot off. I, myself, was shot down by a bullet in my hip. Abe Miller turned me around and placed me behind a tree, motioning for me to lie still. After the rebels had repulsed us four times, we were taken to the rear. The next day after we had been taken to the rear, Mr. Miller's mouth was swollen shut, owing to the fact that his lower jaw and part of his tongue had been shot off. He could not talk, and wrote to me on a piece of paper the following words: "If I never get home, tell my people that I died in the fight."

If anybody wants to refute these statements, let him go to men who were there and know all about it.

WHAT A DEMOCRAT SAYS.

When a member of the same party lands one of their candidates it seems to be taken for granted; but when a democrat praises a republican candidate it shows that the record of the candidate is worthy of notice. Here is what this democrat soldier says about A. V. Miller:

"I enlisted on April 27, 1861, in Company "I," 15th Regiment Penna. I reenlisted as a yeteran on February 9, 1864, in Company "G," 184th Penna. Vol.

There never was a better soldier shouldered a musket than A. V. Miller. No one in his company ever was in want that Abe Miller would not take care of. I know nothing about his having participated in any stealing of bounty money; and if such had been the case I would have known it. Abe Miller was a straightforward, true soldier, at all times loyal to his country; and results of his hard battles which leaves him a wounded man is the best evidence of his having been in the midst of the hardest fighting."

Signed J. L. THOMAS,
Late Private Co. "G," 184th Penna.

Mr. Thomas went on to state that Abe Miller was not mustered into the service until after he was wounded, and for that reason he is entitled to great credit as he was thus not compelled to go into the fight. When Mr. Miller was in the battle he had no assurance that he would be rewarded for his services as he was at that time not mustered in; and when a man does an act of bravery and loyalty such as this, it shows that he is a true soldier from head to foot.

ROASTED BY THEIR OWN PARTY

Old Soldier Democrats Turned Down by Treachery.

REFUSED TO SUPPORT THEIR OWN.

Democratic Votes Were Missing When Their Old Soldier Friends Were on the Ticket.

In an article under a bold head-line the Democrat last week, in brilliant language, tried to paint a picture, showing that the Democratic party was the only one that had taken care of the old soldiers, while the Republican party had "turned them down," as they termed it.

The absurdity of such a claim as they put forth is just now food for public ridicule all over the county. The record of the Democratic party in taking care of their "old soldier friends" is far from being as clean as they would have you believe. Not only in one instance is this true, but in many. No mention, whatever, is made of the old soldiers who have been elected to office by Republican votes; but in a glowing way they showed up every veteran who has received a Democratic vote. Such a one-sided story has already met with such general disproval as to stamp it a farce of the thinnes type.

No one knows better than Democratic soldiers themselves of the shameful treatment administered to their comrades at various instances. Was not John Noll a Democratic candidate for Sheriff, and an old soldier, mercilessly snowed under by Democrats failing to support him? Was not Aaron Williams, another old soldier and Democratic nominee for Congress from this district, turned down by the Democrats themselves in Centre county? David F. Fortney, the present postmaster, was bitterly opposed by many of his own party at the time when he was trying to secure the appointment; and he is an old soldier. Why was he appointed? Simply because one or two who stood in with the administration forces championed his cause, notwithstanding the fact that he was opposed by the majority of the Centre county democrats; and now that he has been appointed, those who fought against his appointment refer to him as an example of how well they take care of their old soldiers.

In the same organ that denounces Miller and the whole Republican party, it states that the "soldier racket," as it terms it, is "a worn-out piece of political demagogery," and that "no sensible, thoughtful person will be influenced by it." Why, then, when a candidate of theirs happened to be a soldier, do they picture his war record in brilliant words? Why do they not do the same when the soldier happens to be a supporter of the opposite party? Just because, as with any other Republican candidate, be he a soldier or not, they try and paint his life as vile and corrupt as they possibly can, in a desperate effort to prejudice public opinion against him.

This plan of operation may have been successful in the past, but it will not be so in the future. The people have had their eyes opened by these methods resorted to by unscrupulous mouthpieces of Democracy. They may have been fooled in the past, but such will not be the case in the present campaign. Charge after charge has already been trumped up against the present Republican candidate for prothonotary, only to be slaughtered by a storm of indignation arising from upon all sides, that plainly said that when, to gratify a political revenge, a true defender of our country is attacked in a manner intended to blacken his war record, it will not only receive the stamp of disproval from the old soldiers, but from every voter in the county.

Had the charges of dishonesty and other trumpery as made against A. V. Miller been true, we would have bowed our heads in deep regret that such was the case; but when the war record of Mr. Miller is as far above reproach as his is, we will not sit meekly by and let it be blackened by those who only attempt to bring down upon him political ruin, in the hope that it will benefit their own party.

The Grand Army vote will be solid for Miller; and if it was ever doubtful in the present campaign, it has been made doubly sure by the disgraceful attacks made upon one of their comrades.

SPEAKING of money, Thomas Took, an eminent English economist, says: Hence new uses will be found for it when is abundant; new avenues of commerce will be opened, new branches of industries will be essayed, until increased production finds employment.

HORRIBLE DEATH OF A PAUPER.

A Woman Sets Fire to Her sOwn Clothing.

Franklin, Pa., Oct. 14.—Mrs. Anna Bell, aged 28, an inmate of the Venango county home, was burned to death this morning and it was to all appearances a case of suicide. Between 4 and 5 o'clock Supt. Grove was awakened by shrieks from one of the corridors, and he found the woman with her clothing on fire. He extinguished the flames by wrapping a quilt around her, and after making her as comfortable as possible he left her in her room.

He had scarcely left her when she jumped from bed, tore off the bandages that covered her burns, dashed a pitcher of cold water upon herself and soon died in intense agony. In her room was found a large piece of half burned paper. It is supposed that with this she set fire to her calico wrapper before her screams aroused Mr. Grove. She had been a great sufferer from an attack of the grip.

"Immortal Faust."

The acme of stage craft the crowning point of theatrical splendor may be said to have been reached in the representation of Geothe's wonderful conception, "Faust" at the hands of Mr. Joseph Callahan, who is to appear at Garman's Opera house on next Tuesday evening.

Combined with the beauties of the grand old classic play, fit to go down the ages with the work of the immoral Shakespeare, and the results of the supreme efforts of scenic artist, master musician and actor, together with a special corps of electrians who have been retained exclusively for the wonderful effect, the mysteries lighting of the caverns and pits of Hades, so realistically pictured in the Brocken scene The story of Faust and Marguerite, the former's compact with Mephistopoles and its wonderful poetry is familiar to us all and possibly never in the history of the stage has the poet so royally illustrated as in this representation.

Mr. Callahan as Mephistopoles presents a characterization at once so full of humor, and deviltry, withal grim and intense that he is destined to fulfill his ambitions on this character alone. He has surrounded himself with a large company including some well known names. The lover of artistic, the classic, the truthful will forward their education and see new beauties in the masterpiece in Mr. Callahan's production of "Faust" on Tuesday night.

Lovers of a good, clean performance should avail themselves of this opportunity to see something that will please them.

Rhetoricals at the High School.

Monday was literary day at the Bellefonte High school and as usual the exercises were very interesting. The participants acquitted themselves in an admirable manner which shows that this line of work is becoming very popular among the students as well as being very beneficial to them. The program as carried out was as follows:

Morris Otto, declamation—"Liberty vs Union;" Ward Fleming, essay—"Monitor vs Merrimac;" Miss Lambert, Oration—"Responsibility;" Miss Longacre, essay—"The story of a pencil;" Mr. Kline, declamation—"A True Gentleman;" Samuel Hart, essay—"Seasons;" Miss Showers, recitation—"A Fisherman's story;" Miss Otto, Oration—"Higher;" Charles Lukenbach, essay—"History;' Miss Harshberger, essay—"Education;" Miss Hart, recitation—"Labor;" Mr. Hill, Declamation—"True Gentleman;" Miss H. Musser, recitation—"Stars;" Willis Ishler, essay—"Pennants;" Miss Koontz, recitation—"Heaven;" Miss Case, essay—"Japan;" Miss Hasting, recitation—I'm not mad;" James Parsons, declamation—"Rome and Carthage;" Miss Holter, essay—"The Honest boy;" Miss Rue, recitation—"A Picture;" Miss E. Musser, essay—Pennsylvania;" Alfred Stewart, essay—"How to write an essay;" Miss Wagner, recitation—"Life vs. Motion;" Miss Wright recitation—"Solomon and the Bees;" Miss Ishler, recitation—"A Prairie Story."

Wants a New Trial.

Norristown, Pa., Oct. 15.—Counsel for Rev. Samuel Howard Chubb, a United Evangelical minister, convicted last week of assault, have filed reasons for a new trial. One of these reasons is that at the Rambo house, a hotel in this borough, one of the jurors, William H. Neal, of Lower Merion, during the trial of the case was seen in conversation with a woman. This woman was unknown to the defendants, but was said to be an actress. It is said their conversation turned upon the merits of the case on trial. These circumstances were unknown to the defendant until after the verdict was received, when a person who overheard the conversation told the defendant's counsel.

HE NEVER WAS A CAPTAIN

Was a Private all His Life But Once.

WAS THEN A FIRST LIEUTENANT

Never Belonged to Company "I," Nor Had Anything to Do With That Company.

How groundless the statements as mad in last week's Democrat are can be estimated from the contradictions as made by A. V. Miller relative to the following article which the Democrat palms off as Mr. Miller's war record:

"During the war, along about 1863-64, John H. Stover, a lawyer at Bellefonte, was a recruiting officer. One of the principal companies being recruited was Come pany I, 184th Pa. Vol. Among those working under his direction was Abraham Miller, of Pleasant Gap, the present republican candidate for prothonotary, and others, still living in Centre county, whose names it is not necessary to mention. When the full company was recruited they departed for Harrisburg. Abraham Miller had been commissoned captain of this company, took charge of them and reached Harrisburg. The other recruiting officers also received commissions in the company from Mr. Stover, as a reward in recruiting new men. It was some time in 1864 that they reached Harrisburg, and up to this time they were in the state service. The following are some of the men who enlisted at this time: Stanley Watson, Milesburg; William B. Lucas, Wallace Run; Thomas Watson, Milesburg; Joshua Folk, Andy Lucas, Sam Gault, of Bellefonte, and many others.

At Harrisburg a sensation occurred. Reports reached the state authorities to the effect that the recruiting officers had been cheating, stealing, or by unfair means depriving the privates of their bounty money. The regiment was called up before the capitol and an official, by the name of Brown, went over the entire regiment to ascertain the amount of bounty each man had received. When this was compared with the enlistment, and the amount they should have received, it was found that $9,990 had been fraudulently withheld from the private soldiers by the various recruiting officers of this regiment. It was done in this way. Each county had to furnish its quota of soldiers. Districts gave premiums or bounty as an inducement for persons to enlist from a certain district. The amounts varied in different counties. Centre paid $200 bounty, while Lehigh gave $300. In recruiting Company I, Centre county volunteers were induced, by some recruiting officers, to enlist from Lehigh county, and were given $20, $30 and $50 more, while the recruiting officers would generally quietly pocket the balance. One soldier told the writer that he was thus beat out of $50, and another claims he was swindled out of $60 by the same process.

This investigation caused much excitement among the soldiers. At the same time nearly all these recruiting officers of Company I lost their commissions. Captain Abraham Miller, who had been wearing the regulation uniform and stripes, and was expected to lead the company into the United States service and to the front, had his commission taken from him and Capt. John McCabe, of Hollidaysburg, succeeded him as Company I's commander."

The above is one of the flimsiest articles and fake stories ever invented, and its complete failure is not at all wondered at. It had no sooner reached the notice of the old soldiers than they flatly denied it. In the first place, it says that A. V. Miller was commisioned as captain of Company I. 184th Pa. Vol. It also states that he took charge of Company I, and took them to Harrisburg. Furthermore, it says that A. V. Miller had his commission as captain taken from him.

How under the sun this article originated, unless it came from some one who was never near smoke and powder, we can not imagine.

In the first place, A. V. Miller never was a captain. He never belonged to Company I. and never wore a captain's shoulder straps. He even never had anything to do with Company I.

Listen to the statement as made by Mr. Miller himself:

"I never was a captain in my life, and never wore a captain's shoulder straps. I never belonged to Company I, and never had anything to do with that company."

How such an article could be allowed to be published broadcast when it was so false, we are unable to understand It surely has done more harm than good; and if it was intended to prejudice voters who knew nothing about the affairs of old soldiers, it has missed the target.

Careful inquiry has been made, and the results have been more than gratifying to us. That the shameful, false statements were indignantly denied on all sides has long been known.

The idea of devoting a column and a half to Mr. Miller's war record, and in every other line terming him a captain when he was always a private, with the exception of once, and then he was a first

TO BE RUN ONA GRAND SCALE.

So That Other Counties Will Imitate Us as They Did in Our Centennial Celebration Last June.

The season for County Fairs has about closed and from all accounts it has been, on a whole, a most profitable and successful one.

In looking over the results we note that Hollidaysburg has just had one of the most successful fairs ever held in the county; Milton had the best attended fair in it's history; Lewisburg had the best display in every respect that was ever exhibited in the county. The attendance at this fair was large considering the bad weather and still it was profitable, While we have had in Centre county the Grangers picnic, with a big crowd and little or no exhibition to speak of, think what it would have been had we had one of our old-fashioned County Fairs.

We would to-day have such a thing as a County Fair had not the Humes' property south-east of Bellefonte been covered with ten dollar bills when the subject of price was mentioned in connection with the probable purchase.

The projectors of the County Fair don't ask that any land be donated to them, but they do ask that a reasonable and fair price be fixed. It has been suggested that the land below Milesburg be purchased and a trolley road built from Bellefonte to it so that our own people would still get the benefit of the twenty thousand and more that would attend during the week.

Centre county could put up an exhibition that would cause the envy of our neighboring counties and it would not be long until they would pattern after us as Lycoming did in her centennial. We have the largest county in the State; the richest and best farms; and men that own more farms than in any other county in Pennsylvania.

We could have exhibitions of farm implements without number, as we have some hustlers in the business. The Pennsylvania State College would send an exhibition such as it sent to the World's Fair that was worth going hundreds of miles to see. The industrial parade at our Centennial would not compare with the Industrial display at our Annual County Fair.

There is no doubt but that it is the desire of every one in the County that a County Fair be established; neither is there any doubt that almost everybody is willing to help make it a success. It is not the fault of the projectors that the annual county fair is not already an established fact; it is the fault of the people with whom they have to deal with in order to obtain a suitable place to hold it. Had a reasonable and fair price been asked for the land when the purchase of it was last contemplated, the land would be now bought and paid for and a large and successful fair would have been on the program this fall.

It is too late now to try to accomplish anything as far as holding the fair this year yet is concerned; but it is the time to make the necessary arrangements for holding such a county festival next year. If the merchants in Bellefonte would consider the matter carefully and then act, success would soon be the reward of their efforts. That a county fair would be beneficial to them they all know; and no one regrets that such an enterprise is not already in operation more than they do.

That the county fair is a certainty for next year is already conceded by even the most doubtful. But then if the matter were taken up now and agitated during the winter the fair would be a complete success in every particular. Every preliminary arrangement could be perfected; the land bought; preparations for commencing operations in the spring; and, in fact, everything that would tend to make our county fair a thing of wide fame could be done during the cold months, thus leaving little to be finished when warm weather comes again.

Considerable work is being done at the present time which has not yet been brought to the notice of the public; but when it does, it will astonish everybody.

But the fact that some of the citizens are doing the work should not deter others from helping, because every little helps and there is something for everyone to do.

This has been the great trouble encountered when anything is to be done in Bellefonte: To let a few do all the work, and it should not be the case in this movement. The more that help it along, the greater will be the success. When the citizens of Bellefonte take a thing in hand it has always been a complete success. This has been the case in not one or two affairs, but in everything they ever attempted.

Our Centennial was one of the most successful held in the whole state this year—

FACTS ON FREE WOOL.

Where the Democratic Tariff Hinders Workers of Pennsylvania.

FOREIGN GOODS SOLD CHEAP

An English Correspondent Confirms the Bad Conditions.

BAD TIMES AFTER FREE TRADE.

Some Plain Facts Which Show the Necessity of Continuing and Emphasizing the Policy of Protection to American Industries as Championed by the Republican Party—The Keystone State Wants None of Cleveland's Ideas.

As an illustration of the manner in which American woolen manufacturers are faring with free wool, we have been advised by a manufacturer at Franklin, Mass., that "had I thought Grover would have allowed such a bill—the Gorman tariff—to become law I would have stopped and retired. There is nothing in the business today for a worsted maker."

This manufacturer was in receipt, July 22, of a letter from Bradford, accompanied by samples of serge and fancy worsteds. The serge is sold in grease from the loom by the manufacturer at twenty-eight cents per yard. It is woven, burled and sewed and ready to dye. It is sixty-four inches wide. The American manufacturer cannot buy yarn or stock necessary to make similar goods and place it in his loom at the same price, twenty-eight cents per yard, at which the Bradford serge is sold, the stock alone costing here thirty-five cents. Yet the Bradford manufacturer can buy his yarn, weave it, sell it at twenty-eight cents per yard and figure out a profit. The same is the case with fancy worsteds, selling at fifty-one cents by the Bradford maker.

As we have free wool and the English manufacturers have free wool, the mills in both countries can start upon nearly the same footing as far as their raw material is concerned. What, then, is the difference? It is in the labor of spinning and manufacturing, which in weaving is 119 per cent. higher in the United States than in Bradford.

This simply confirms the argument of protectionists that the bulk of the cost, in this case fully 90 per cent., of a manufactured article is the labor employed in making it. Free wool affords no protection to American labor in the woolen mills.

Our Franklin correspondent states that one importing house has sold for a Bradford firm, this season, to the extent of 10,000 pieces of fine worsted cloth at $1 per yard, and he anticipates that "in less than eighteen months there will be more machinery stopped than in 1893, unless the tariff is advanced."

Confirming this opinion of the manufacturer at Franklin we append, without any comment, a letter received from a correspondent at Bradford, England, Aug. 13:

The great manufacturing districts of Yorkshire, but more especially Bradford, are full steam ahead. Work is plentiful, competition is keen, wages low. That may seem to be a paradox to some readers, but it nevertheless is so and must continue. On every hand our merchant princes and the press claim, as one of our leading daily papers said last week, that our manufacturers have taken your market by storm. Whether that be so or not I will leave your readers to settle, but it does appear to me that when I consider the amount of exports that are leaving these shores destined to your market the English operators must be receiving a fair share of patronage, which patronage your own operators and employed have a just right to demand. The few returns which I have hurriedly gathered and put together, showing what we sent across to your side in June only, are indeed a splendid object lesson to all true hearted Americans. They should promote thought and reflection in all those who have the power to think, and especially among your own responsible parties. The following are the increased shipments when compared with the corresponding month of June, 1894:

Bradford	£293,531	12	7
Glasgow	36,568	3	10
Sheffield	41,916	6	2
Leeds	40,169	6	9
Manchester	85,737	13	6
Total	£497,923	2	10

The exports from Bradford alone during the half year reached £2,169,265 12s. 9d. more than during the same period in 1894. Further remarks just now are needless. Consider these figures soberly and rationally. My sketch speaks loudly the fact that foreigh imports are rapidly rising. How long is this to continue?

Where the Theory Fails.

According to a paper issued by the bureau of Ameritan republics, the prices of nearly all necessities, beans and coffee being two of the prominent exceptions, were higher in Mexico for a given year than in the United States.

In the same country and during the same year the wages of all labor were lower than those paid for the same class of work in the United States, farm hands, a very numerous class, being notoriously underpaid.

Mexico is a silver country. She shares that distinction with China, India and Japan, other countries in which labor is also notoriously underpaid. Certainly the conditions there fail utterly to prove that a silver currency benefits the workingmen.

For the Sabbath Schoo's.

Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 9.—At the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association to-day was decided that the highest uniformity should be maintained in county organizations. General Secretary Kephart's report showed that he had attended 116 conventions, had given 170 addresses and normal lessons, and had preached 30 sermons. The report of Treasurer Haddock showed receipts of $3,945, expenses of $3,760 and an indebtedness of $899, which was made up by the convention. President Wanamaker subscribing half the amount. Encouraging reports were received from district superintendents of the work during the year. Parliaments of discussion on different subjects took place, and Mr. Wanamaker enlarged upon "Superintending a Sunday School." With a class of 30 children, Mrs. J. W. Barnes, of Newark, N. J., president of the Primary Teachers' union of that State, gave an object on "Teaching a Primary Class." The features of this evening's session were addresses by W. R. Reynolds, of Chicago, international field president; L. W. Munhall and Mr. Wanamaker, of Philadelphia.

Asked to Remove Their Badges.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 9.—Fred Smith, a veteran, was buried this morning under the auspices of Wm. Sanborn post, Grand Army of the Republic. The services were held at St. Joseph's Catholic church and conducted by Father Spaeth. When the pall bearers arrived at the church door they were requested by the priest to remove their Grand Army of the Republic badges. This they refused to do and remained on the outside until the services were over.

The veterans are angry over the matter. Father Spaeth said that in requesting the soldiers to remove their badges he was only following the rules of the diocese, which states that no society not approved by the church is permitted to wear regalia in the church. It is not because the church is opposed to the Grand Army, but because it is not a Catholic organization.

A Big Success.

One of the best attractions that has yet been in Garman's Opera house was the "Burglar" which played to a good house on Wednesday evening. To say that the people were pleased is saying the least that could be said in that respect. The acting individually was good, some of the roles being played to perfection. Little "Editha" was the idol of the people and carried off the laurels of the evening. The acting of Walter D. Green as "William Lewis" was some of the best ever seen on a Bellefonte stage, while Geo. S. Probert as 'Walter Bainbridge' carried through his difficult part in an admirable way. Walter Townsend as "John Hamilton," a retired merchant makes a very good old man and said his lines in a way only acquired by long study and practice. The scene in act III, where little Editha discovers the burglar in the act of robbing her own house and surprises him by saying "she won't hurt him" was well received by the audience.

This troups played here two years ago and manager Garman was very fortunate to secure this return date. We hope they they will come back soon.

He Shouldn't Tell It.

A business man that can't afford to subscribe for a local daily paper should close up his door and quit business. If he can't afford to subscribe for a local daily paper he certainly can't afford to keep first class articles on hand for his customers. We advise him to go out of business at once We also advise him to walk around only at night for fear the sun's rays might soften his heart, and then perhaps he couldn't afford to freeze it up again. Poor man, you had better keep as cool as you can in this world for you wont be able to do so in the next. Such a man stands a good chance being put in charge of a coal bin in his Satanic majesty's coal yard.

Synod of the Reformed Church.

Butler, Pa., Oct. 10.—The Pittsburg synod of the Reformed church to-day elected these officers: President, Rev. D H Leader, of Saltsburg; vice president, H D Darbaker, of Emlenton; corresponding secretary, S T Wagner, of Monroe. Prof. J H Apple, president of the women' college at Fredericksburg, Md., and formerly professor of mathematics in the Central high school at Pittsburg, addressed the synod this morning, and other addresses were made by Rev. P. C. Prugh, and Rev. Dr. Diffenbacher.

Didn't Know it Was Loaded.

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 10.—At Shickshinny this morning Schuyler Gross, a young man was talking to Miss Sadie Moyer, to whom he is engaged to be married. He was at the time carelessly handling a revolver. The weapon was suddenly discharged and the ball entered Miss Moyer's temple, thence ploughed around to the left ear. The girl may die. Gross did not know the revolver was loaded.

New members of the executive committee: N. T. Arnold, Ridgway, three years; J. H. Heing, three years; Rev. J. B. Shontz, Chambersburg, three years, and Rev. Charles Rhoads, Philadelphia, one year. The place of holding the next meeting was left to the executive committee.

They Were Not Fever Warnings.

On Thursday evening workmen were engaged in repairing the steam pipes on Allegheny street and consequently there were many ditches along the road. To make it perfectly safe for travellers, red lanterns were hung out over every ditch so it would be impossible for anybody to drive into them. It had every appearance of a line of signals such as is used at night in time of war. About nine o'clock two strangers drove into town and evidently having heard of the many cases of typhoid fever at Coleville, immediately came to the conclusion that the plague had extended to Bellefonte and that the red lights in the streets in front of different houses signified that the dreaded disease was therein and precautions had been taken to prevent its spreading.

At the corner of Linn and Allegheny street they stopped the horse and calling to a little boy who was standing there, asked much to the surprise of the almost frozen urchin, "Has the whole town got it?"

"Got what?" replied the boy.

"Why the typhoid fever," answered the badly scared travellers. "Aren't those red lights along the street danger signals to notify the people to keep away from their houses?"

"Say," said the boy, "did you ever see steam heat pipes repaired by electric light?"

Not comprehending what repairing steam heat pipes had to do with typhoid fever the strangers replied that they never had.

"Well that's what them lights are out for, and if you hurry up you might see them do it before you leave town."

The strangers heaved a great sigh of relief at this information and drove off without waiting to thank their kind informant

A Peddler Almost Killed.

Portage, Pa., Oct. 9.—About 2.30 yesterday afternoon an Arabian pack peddler named Imope Asema, was way-laid and robbed on the Trout Run branch, near J. C. Martin's mine, about one and a half miles from Portage, by two Englishmen One struck the peddler with a stone, while the other shot at him, the ball striking him on the back, between the shoulder blades, and taking a downward course. The assailants then proceeded to strip the Arabian of his pack and money, and immediately left for parts unknown. The wounded man, however, was able to call for assistance, and some of the miners came to his aid and Dr. George Glass was summoned from Portage, who made a hasty examination of the injured man, and it was found that he had received a very painful flesh wound. It is not known fully at this writing whether the injuries inflicted by the highwaymen will prove fatal or not.

The wounded man says he has a brother living in Altoona at 3134 Eleventh street. No trace of the robbers has as yet been found.

To Meet in Erie.

The twenty-eighth annual State Convention of the Young Mens' Christian Association will meet in Erie, Oct. 24-27. Many prominent speakers will be present, and a very enjoyable time is anticipated.

Matilda Enham, Columbia, Pa., says:

"That Bearing-Down Feeling and dizzy, faint, gasping attacks left me as soon as I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick with womb troubles so long I thought I never could get well."

A Pointer for Travellers.

It has always been the custom of using a ticket office in a railroad station as a bank and general accommodation rendezvous by business men who take an occasional trip. Some of them take a check for ten or fifteen dollars and buy a ticket which costs perhaps a dollar or two, and thus get the balance of the check cashed. This saves them the trouble of going to the bank. Another thing that caused railroad agents considerable trouble was the irregularity of drawing and indorsing the checks presented in payment for tickets. But this has been done away with now and things will be run difierently in the future. These two sections of "Instructions to Agents," will explain what to expect from the ticket agent in the future. Section III states that agents are forbidden to cash checks for accommodation excepting the Company's Pay Roll Checks, Relief Fund Orders, Saving Fund Orders, or other orders or drafts on the Treasurer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Section V, states that the agents will be particular tohave allchecksdrawn to order of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., or where checks are presented by parties to whose order they have been drawn by the signers, they must write over their endorsement pay to the order of "The Pennsylvania Railroad Co."

Hereafter no check will be cashed for more than the amonnt of the ticket purchased.

The advisability of this course can readily be seen when one stops to think not only of the responsibility in which the ticket agent is placed, but also the large amount of necessary money that is taken out of the office which is needed to make change when tickets are purchased.

Travellers should keep this in mind as it might save them the embarrassment of being turned down when you present checks at the ticket window.

United for Victory.

The meeting of the Republican state committee gave ample evidence of the fact that, however Pennsylvania Republicans may differ among themselves upon questions of party management, they are thoroughly united and harmonious in presenting an unbroken front to the common enemy. The large attendance and the encouraging reports as to the outlook in all the counties made it clear that the attempt of the Democratic organs to make capital out of a returning prosperity, which is due alone to the public confidence in Republican success, will not avail the opposition party in this state.

Pennsylvania Republicans owe it to themselves and to their fellows throughout the nation to show that they are as firm as ever in their devotion to the principles of adequate protection to all American industries, sound finance and honest elections, the temporary ignoring of which in the last presidential election brought great ruin and suffering upon our people, and it is extremely gratifying that the gathering of the state committee on Wednesday showed so clearly that they would meet all just expectations.—Pittsburg Times.

An Answer to Josiah.

"Upon what issues," said Mr. Josiah Quincy the other day in his convention address, "can the Republican party ask the country to restore it to power next year?" If Josiah really wants an answer, we should say offhand that one uncommonly good issue is that the country has had enough of Democratic administration, and any change must be an improvement.—The Inquirer.

Secretary Morton's department is out with a vigorous assault on the late Senator Plumb, of Kansas. Senator Plumb is dead, and it is much safer to attack him than to demand justice for ex-Consul Waller from France.—Louisville Commercial (Rep.).

According to an announcement made yesterday "the treasury situation is not yet sufficiently serious to call for another issue of bonds." This is important, but it is still more important to remember that the bond syndicate is in a position to make the situation as serious as it pleases if the treasury again permits itself to be forced into a corner before doing anything to protect itself.—New York World (Dem.).

SILVER FOUND NEAR MUNCY.

Capitalists Intend to Make a Test as to the Value and Extent of the Deposits.

Williamsport, Oct 12.—Last week there was found in the earth in the vicinity of Muncy a nugget of lead ore which is 80 per centum pure. There was also found a cropping of silver ore in the same neighborhood. Out of a teaspoonful and a half of this crushed silver ore two particles of the pure metal were obtained about the size of No. 5 shot, besides enough to plate a small piece of steel. Neither the extent of the silver or lead deposit is known, but the outcroppings of the latter show a vein of about seven inches. It is stated that as soon as the land which contains these valuable minerals can be secured by the interested parties, excavations will be made to determine the value of the discovery.

FOUDN BY A WILLIAMSPORTER.

These minerals were located by James Mitcheltree, one of Williamsport's older citizens, who lives on Meade street, above Grove, where, when not engaged in mineral hunting, he makes baskets. For twenty-seven years he lived in the west, where his whole time was spent in the location of minerals. On Monday of last week he was called to Muncy by interested parties, and from Tuesday morning until Thursday night he was engaged in locating the exact position of these outcroppings, the presence of which he had discovered while hunting on his own account north of Muncy, a year ago last spring. Last spring he spent four weeks hunting in the country and again came upon the above mentioned deposit. It was after this trip that he made known his discovery.

THE SPECIMENS SEEN.

A Sun reporter visited Mr. Mitcheltree at his home yesterday, where he saw the specimens of silver and lead ore found near Muncy. The latter specimens were unusually rich, being almost pure while the former corresponded to the specimens in his collection of western silver ore. He said that he had obtained crucibles wherewith to make another and more thorough test of the more valuable ore, which would be done in the near future.

The mineral hunter explained to the reporter how he located the minerals. His implements consist of painted pieces composed of just the right proportions of various metals which will be attracted by the various minerals of the earth. In a cylinder attached to these magnets is a solified electric battery.

A BENT STICK

held loosely in the hands is carried by the hunter. The construction of the whole is so delicate that the presence of minerals is readily indicated by the movement of the "divining rod" in the direction of the mineral. With his implements the presence of gold, silver, lead, copper, iron, and petroleum may be discovered. Mr. Mitcheltree states that Lycoming county contains ores of many kinds, but whether they are in abundance he is unable to state. He leaves the capitalists to find this out. He said that the people for whom he located the silver and lead outcroppings appear very much in earnest and that they intend to find out just how rich the deposits are.—Williamsport Sun.

School Children's Narrow Escape

An accident which happened at the red school house, situated midway between Bellefonte and Milesburg, has just come to light which, although little damage was done, might have proven very disastrous.

John Sheffler is the teacher at this school and as it is the custom when the boys become mischevious to take their playthings from them. The other day one of the little boys brought a package of dynamite caps to school and distributed them among his playmates. The children played with them for some time not knowing what they were, and finally the teacher took them from them. He did not know what the small thing was and to get it out of the way, he threw it in the fire Immediately there was a flash of fire, followed by a loud report and soon the school room was filled with smoke. Chilren were excited and ran this way and that, and not knowing what had happened, naturally were scared almost to death. Although there was considerable confusion for several moments, Mr. Sheffler soon quieted the children and after the smoke had cleared away the studies were resumed.

It was a very narrow escape and it was very fortunate that only one of the cartridges was thrown into the fire instead of the whole pack, for if such had been the case every one in the room might have been killed.

Dam Bust at Scranton.

Scranton, Pa., Oct., 11.—The dam of Lackawanna from the Steel company in this city burst at 6 o'clock to-night, and the yards and shops of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad company were flooded. No persons were seriously injured. The dam contained the supply of water for the blasts furnaces, and the accident will probably delay operations.

Literary at the Academy.

The literary exercises of the Addisonian Society at the Bellefonte Academy on Friday afternoon were very interesting from beginning to end. These exercises are instructive and are of great benedt to the students. The program as carrie out was as follows:

Recitation by Austin Brew—"The National Flag" Alfred Brisbon, essay; Wilson Gephart, essay; John Curtin, recitation—"Against the American War;" Norman Grauer, essay; Clarence Garbrick, recitation—"True Heroism;" John Teats, essay; Luther Hughes, recitation—"Religion of Revolutionary Men;" Charles Hendrickson, essay; George Rulofson, Declamation—"The Ship of State;" Arthur Fisher, essay; Harry Condo, Declamation; John Decker, essay; Donald Potter, recitation; James Curtin, essay; John Henderson, Declamation—"Duties of American Citizens;" Herbert Hassinger, recitation—"Washington;" Robert Valentine, essay.

At the Academy all the essays are written on the same subject in order to prevent failure to write or cribbing. It alsoaids in teaching the mind to thoroughly analyze different subjects. In this case the subject of the essays was "Success." It brought out the following essential points necessary for one to be successful:

First—Every one should have a worthy aim. Second—The successful men of life are those of definite aim and purpose; illustrating this truth from past and present history. Third—the successful realization of a good purpose, whether in social, business, or professional life demands the possession of certain qualities, namely: Experience, Ambition, Perseverance, Common Sense, Honesty, Truthfulness, Being wide awake, Sobriety, Courtesy, Good morals and Christian Reverence. Fourth—Patterning after good examples and profiting by their experiences, we should be encouraged to work for success in all worthy enterprises.

This subject was well handled by the different students, thus showing that they had studied the matter carefully before they commenced writing.

The subject for the Debate was "That students should be allowed to engage in athletic contests." Charles McClure, Coburn Rogers, Daniel Keller and Bolton Eldridge were on the affirmative, and Grey Hastings, James Lane, Charler Harris and Harry Weaver conducted the negative.

Both sides had many salient points and excellent arguments and it was almost 5 o'clock when the debate closed. It was finally decided in favor of the affirmative.

To Deal With the Hazers.

New Wilmington, Pa., Oct. 11.—Dr. McElvee, president of Westminster college has ordered a meeting of the trustees to take action upon the recent hazing of W. Mabon. Twenty-three students notified the board this morning that unless decisive action be taken by noon to-morrow, they will leave the college.

Mabon appeared before a magistrate this afternoon to give evidence against Flowers Beggs, Hanley and Howells, whom he had identified as being among those who assaulted him. Not one of them appeared, and they are supposed to have fled.

It Should Be Stopped.

For the past two shows that have been in the Opera house there has been a band furnishing the music. This is a mistake that should be attended to at once. The music furnished by both bands was excellent but is too loud for enjoyment in a small room. It is not doing justice to the bands as their music can not be appreciated in that place. An orchestra is what is needed and it is to be hoped it wil soon be secured. Bellefonte has some first-class talent for music and there is no reason why an orchestra should not be organized.

Soldiers Read This.

Any soldier in Centre County can have his war record placed in the Centre county archives by writing to any member of the Grand Army Post in Bellefonte or to Ro and Irvin for blanks. There are a great many old soldiers who would like to have their war records in this book but hesitate to write for blanks. That is what this book is for and it should be used by the "old boys" for this purpose. Some of the old veterans will not live many more years and the sooner their war record is placed on file the better it will be for them.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

DEAR SIRS:

We have heard from many of you during the brief period that our advertisement appeared in this space. Any others desiring full reports and statements can secure same by writing to us.

The further opening up of the South Central group of gold mines, and the erection of a Stamp Mill to reduce the company's ore to bullion, is a square, legitimate use of capital.

1. Mr. Barry, formerly of Cripple Creek, the Bonanza gold camp of Colorado, sold his interests there, and bought the Morning Star gold mine, a producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

2. Captain Plummer, formerly of the Granite Mountain mine, is now working the Delamar Mine, a large producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

As the Granite Mountain (Gold and Silver Mining Co.) stock rose from about twelve cents a share to over $50 a share, and paid from 25 cents to 50 cents per share per month in dividends, under the superintendency of Captain Plummer, we consider him a pretty safe guide to follow in mining, and we invite you to participate in the nvestment.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

FOR PROTHONOTARY,
ABRAM V. MILLER,
of College Twp.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY,
HENRY C. QUIGLEY, of Bellefonte.

Vote for Quigley and Miller.

THE democrats realize that it will be a stern rebuke to their party if Singer is not re-elected.

DESPAIR is imprinted on the face of every Democrat in the county. They have just reason for it too.

GRAND army men are perfectly right in feeling insulted by the disgraceful attacks made on their comrade Abram V. Miller.

IF Quigley has any enemies in Eagleville they have lately been transported from the democratic ranks in Bellefonte.

EVERY Republican knows his duty at the coming election. Give not to the democrats one complimentary vote.

SHOULD Jake Runkle ever be sheriff, we suppose Jim Corneely would be appointed his deputy. Well, they would make two of a kind.

EVERY republican will support Quigley and Miller, notwithstanding the false accusations made by the supporters of the democratic party.

AS usual the democratic organs say there will be no trouble in giving a democratic majority if the democratic vote is brought to the polls this fall.

WHEN Grover Cleveland vacates the Presidential chair in 1896, he will have the thanks of every citizen in the United States—for getting out.

WITH defeat staring them in the face at the coming election, the county democrats are pulling their hair out by the roots at their failure to bull-doze Republican voters.

AS USUAL the Watchman has commenced its campaign harangue of dirty accusations against republican candidates which are every one groundless and only trumped up to prejudice voters against them.

IT HAS already gone so far that the democrats will stop at nothing—be it fair or foul—to try and defeat Miller and Quigley. The good citizens will not be influenced however by their dirty language and unscrupulous assertions.

NOT one word is said about Singer's ability by the Democratic organs when they try to tell you Quigley is incompetent Singer's record as district attorney is too well known to need any commenting on as far as ability? is concerned.

THE Democratic howl is that times are improving under the present administration. They are improving but it has been a disgraceful three years of hard times and the present revival is due to the republican congress last elected, and not to Grover Cleveland.

WHEN veterans come voluntarily and make such sweeping contradictions of the articles that appeared in last week's issue of the Centre Democrat, as appear in this week's REPUBLICAN, it is very evident that Mr. Miller's war record is far different from what the Democrat would have you believe.

In a Different Color Now.

In last week's issue of the Centre Democrat an article appeared which was intended to imply that A. V. Miller was interested in the stealing of $9,990 bounty money, rightfully belonging to the soldiers. One of the recruiting officers at the time company I, 184th, Pa. Vol. was recruited, was A. V. Miller, at the time living at Pleasant Gap. The article goes onto mention some of the men that were enlisted at that time, to try and lead people to think that the make-believe facts originated from the veterans mentioned. As soon as the article came to the notice of the soldiers they rightly became indignant at the false implications. Some of the statements which appear elsewhere in this issue, contradicting alleged facts as brought out by our democratic contemporary were made by the very men whom it was intended to have people believe asserted what appeared in last week's Democrat. Voluntary as these contradictions are, it shows that the result hoped for in making these charges against Mr. Miller is far different from what was expected. It has done more good for the interest of Mr. Miller than anything else could have done, and there is a general deep regret among the democrats over this foolish and rash action of its mouth-piece. It was a desperate card played to try to make it appear that Mr. Miller was a dishonest man; and the indignant action of the comrades in refuting these charges is the best testimonial of the esteem in which he is held among the veterans in Centre county.

The Democrat was very wise in leaving a loop-hole for escape in saying that they would not accuse Mr. Miller of being guilty of cheating his own soldiers, but the article was worded in a manner intended to make unsuspecting voters believe that Mr. Miller was the receipient of some of this stolen bounty money. Grand Army men have not been fooled by this attack and when the time to vote comes around, it will be found that the Centre county veterans will administer such a rebuke to democratic misrepresentation that will silence it forever in this respect, by casting a solid vote for their tried and found honest comrade and leader, Abram V Miller.

Free Wool.

That marvelous increase in the price of wool, which the Free Traders assured the wool growers would follow the removal of the duty, still hangs fire. There has been a great improvement in the demand for wool, due to the fact that people have been wearing their old clothes for three years, and now must have new ones, but the demand has not strengthened the price, because manufacturers have been able to get all they wanted from the accumulated Australian, South America and South Africa stocks. Had not the demagogs succeeded in forcing free wool through the farmers would have reaped a rich reward from this revival in the demand for wool, and it would have wiped many million dollars worth of mortgages from the records. There never was a piece of legislation so unnecessary and unjustifiable, and its direct hurtfulness was manifest to every thinking man. The farmers were slaughtered by a parcel of demagogs who pandered to the importers and foreign manufacturers.

Will It Ever Be Stopped?

It seems that nothing is being done to stop the boys tearing around the streets of Bellefonte after night which has so long been a nuisance. But there will be sorrow in several houses some of these fine mornings when the parents wake and find their boys in the lockup. They will have nobody to blame but themselves as they have been frequently warned to keep their boys at home in the evening. The policeman do not want to arrest these youthful peace disturbers but it will be their duty if it is not soon stooped. The other night some boys threw a log against a door of a Curtin street house and broke the door in and knocked out a panel. This is going to extremes and the names of the boys are known. If this is kept up they will be arrested and punished to the full extent of the law.

Aunt Rachael's Horehound and Elecampane.

Combined with Speer's Grape Juice and Rock Candy for Public Speakers and Singers is being prescribed by many prominent physicians. which is a guarantee of its purity and its efficiency in curing pulmonary complaints. It is used in preference to Cod Liver Oil and in many cases the curative results are quicker and more permanent. Fore sale by druggists Price 25 cent and 75 cent.

DEMOCRATIC predictions are very much like those of fishermen—they always have an "if" in them, so as to be able to make excuses when the result is not as they predicted.

THE idea of returning Schofield to the legislature and seating Jake Runkle in the Sheriff's chair is so ridiculous that it is laughed at by even the friends of these two party ringers themselves.

Women exchange confidences about their own health and that of their husbands. A man's physical well being is closely watched by a thoughtful wife. It is part of her duty in the world to keep him well. If she sees him running down, she should take measures to stop it. Very few men enjoy being sick. They won't admit even to themselves that they are sick. They will go on losing flesh and vitality—working too hard—worrying too hard—taking little or no care of their health. Maybe they need only a little help to be made well. Maybe a good simple tonic is all they require. Maybe it is something more serious. Whichever it is, it should be attended to. When a man gets really sick, his work stops. He can't tend to business. He loses all he has previously gained. Actual want may stare him in the face. It doesn't pay to get sick, or to stay sick. There's no need of doing either. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will prevent sickness. It is a blood helper and a flesh builder. It restores perfect digestion and insures perfect assimilation of the food. It is a powerful enemy to germs and will search them out in all parts of the body, forcing their evacuation. It has been proven by the written testimony of hundreds of grateful people that the "Golden Medical Discovery" will even cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if taken in its early stages.

A book of 160 pages containing testimonials and much valuable health talk will be sent on receipt of this notice and 6 cents to cover postage. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

ANOTHER STATEMENT.

"I was a member of Co. E, 184th Pa. Vol. I was afterwards transferred to Co. D, because the company recruited by A. V. Miller was full. I enlisted with Joseph Thomas, and we went to Harrisburg to get our local bounty. The day after we had received our bounty money A. V. Miller met me on the street and asked me how much money I had gotten I told him $240. He said I should have had $300. He (Miller) continuing said: "I have nothing to do with this, but over there is a man who will help you out," pointing to Governor Curtin. We went to see Governor Curtin, and told him what we had gotten. The Governor had the whole company brought down and sworn as to how much each man had received. After we went to the Governor's office we heard no more of the affair. Abe Miller told me I had been robbed, and put me on the track to get my money. I do not say this through any particular friendship for Miller, but he was a good soldier and was always perfectly straight.

After the affair with Gov. Curtin, I went to the front, was captured and taken to Andersonville prison, and when I got back the matter had been settled in some way or other, as nothing more was heard of it.,'

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Oct, 14, 1895.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

"Old man mystery" is Mr. Cleveland's latest Washington name. It has been bestowed upon him on account of his growing liking for mystifying the public as to his comings and goings. His manner of returning to Washington after his long absence emphasizes the correctness of the new appellation. None of his friends have ever succeeded in giving a satisfactory explanation of this desire to keep his movements secret, especially when going upon or returning from a trip, although some of them have made ingenious attempts in that line. There is some curiosity expressed as to whether when he takes his cabinet down to Atlanta he will try to smuggle himself and them out of the city. If anybody knows when the party is to start they are keeping the knowledge to themselves. All that is known in Washington is that arrangements are being made in Atlanta to have the Presidential party at the Exposition on the 22nd inst.

While no senator has made a positive statement to that effect, enough has been said by senators to make it wellnigh certain that there will be no general reorganization of the Senate when Congress meets owing to neither party having a clear majority in that body and to neither republicans or democrats desiring to allow the populists to dictate the organization by making a deal for their votes. By this it is not meant that there will be changes among the officials and committee chairmen of the Senate, for there is likely to be a number, but they will be only such as shall be agreed upon by both republican and democratic senators, and will be of the give and take order. In other words, instead of all the Senate committee chairmen and officials being democrats, as at present, they will be divided between democrats and republicans, with the chances in favor of the populists being entirely left out in the cold.

Few Americans, no matter what may be their opinions of the Cuban revolution, will agree with Attorney General Harmon's assertion that expressions of sympathy by citizens of this country for the struggling Cubans are "discourteous in the highest degree to a friendly power and tends to embarass and obstruct the government in carrying out its determination faithfully to execute the laws and fulfill its treaty obligations." The Constitution of the United States guarantees the freedom of speech, and Mr. Harmon is probably the first member of a President's cabinet to officially declare its exercise to be discourteous to a foreign government or embarassing to our town. Mr. Harmon may speak for this administration, which has not at any time during its existence reflected public sentiment upon any question of importance, but he certainly does not speak for the American people, who will continue to exercise their constitution given rights by publicly expressing their opinions and sympathies, just as they have always done. If it be discourteous for Americans to express sympathy for the Cuban revolutionists it was also discourtesy for the French to have expressed sympathy for the American revolutionists of '76. The very corner stone of this nation is freedom, and if the time ever comes when our people do not sympathize with, aye and express their sympathy, too, for those in other countries who are struggling for freedom, our own freedom will be in great danger. What adds to the incongruity, not to say absurdity, of the Attorney General's position is the fact that Spain did not stop to consider whether it was discourteous to the United States or not when she recognized the belligerency of the late Confederate states very early in the late civil war.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness, caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

HE NEVER WAS A CAPTAIN.

lieutenant of Company E, 184th Pa. Vol.

Think of it. A man who holds four honorable discharges, and was only commissioned once, the greater part of his war service being served as a private, and then, shortly before he was wounded, he was commissioned as a first lieutenant.

They say his commission as a captain was taken from him. How under the sun can a thing be taken from a man which he never had?

The whole article is bosh from beginning to end, and when they come any such dodge as that again—by false statements—you can put it down as the rambling chatter of one who even never saw a musket, let alone ever handling one.

Whether it was a mistake of the editor in taking down his alleged statements, we do not know. But we do know that when they imply dishonesty, and charge Mr. Miller with a disgraceful war record, it is a lie of the blackest kind from beginning to end.

and there were a great many held. So would it be with our county fair. Carried on with the tact and careful guidance of Bellefonte business men, it could be nothing but a grand success. It would set an example to other counties and they, as in the past, would soon imitate us in the future.

This matter cannot be taken up too soon, and the sooner it is taken up the better it will be for its success. It is the earnest hope that many days will not pass by before an active public movement will be on foot to make a reality what the whole county has wished, a grand County Fair.

Citizen Editor's Note.

The Citizens for October will be welcomed by those interested in rational reforms, which have educated as their basis. The editorial treat in a dignified and intelligent manner the municipal situation in New York City, and at length of the influence of athletics in American life.

This number gives a good idea of the field for such a jouanal as The Citizen Dr. S. C. Hooker furnishes an exhaustive article under "A Plea for Filtration" The writer gives carefully selected tables and data, and reaches the conclusion that filtration for large cities, and for Philadelphia in particular, is not only desirable, but feasible. Dr. A. A. Bird furnishes a statement as to the constitution and working of the legislative body of Philadelphia the City Councils. The article points the way to reforms in the organization and powers of Councils. Mrs. Catharine Mary Reynolds-Winslow is the author of a very readable and interesting paper on Charles Reade. It was Mrs. Winslow's good fortune to know Charles Reade personally as far as it refers to the personality of the author her article is written with special knowledge. A brief sketch, "The Passing of Summer," by W. B. Hale, is a little prose poem.

The number contains a lengthy and careful review of General Walker's last book, "The Making of the Nation," by L. P. Powell, and Book Notes, with University Extension Notes and Announcements.

Its First Anniversary.

The Undine band association celebrated its first anniversay on Tuesday evening by holding a grand banquet at the band rooms on Logan street. The spread laid out was something fine and was finished in short order. Several toasts were made and responded to by the different members of the company and at a reasonable hour every one departed feeling that it had been an evening well spent.

Relief In Six Hours.

Distressing Kidney and Bladder disease elieved in six hours by the "New Great South American Kidney Cure." This new remedy is a great surprise on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain n the bladder, kidneys, back and every part of the urinary passages in male or fema e. It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is your Meeting With Success.

The plan of having 100 boys each raise $10 for the Y. M. C. A. is meeting with great success. More than forty boys out of the Presbyterian church alone will soon have their required amounts raised. The money is for a worthy cause and no one should hesitate to give a dollar to save Bellefonte's young men from evil.

He Will Come Back.

Good news was announced to the members of the A. M. E. church, when the decision of the annual conference made known the fact that Rev. H. A. Grant would be in Bellefonte for another year. Rev. Grant has already done much good in this town and we predict him a very successful year in the future.

Coming Tuesday Next.

Joseph Callahan, the greatest of American Mephisto's in the massive electrical spectacular production "Faust." His representative John E. Williams called on us this p. m. announcing the appearance of his company on Tuesday evening, Oct. 22, at Garman's opera house.

To Publish a Monthly.

A monthly paper will be published by the women of Bellefonte which will be called the "Methodist Christian Worker." This new magazine will make its first appeance on Saturday from the Magnet office. Success.

—Joshua Folk was busy trimming the trees near the residence of Daniel Garman, on High street, on Tuesday.

—A house-warming was tendered several visiting priests at the residence of Father McArdle on Tuesday.

—Remember the lecture on Friday evening in the Court-House, by Rev. R. H Gilbert of Tyrone. It will be free to all. His subject will de "Stepping Upwards," and should be heard by every-dody.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

Fatal Accident Last Evening on a Pittsburg Electric Line.

Pittsburg, Oct. 13.—Three persons were killed outright and nine others injured by a runaway trolley car on the West End electric line jumping the track and going over an embankment at 6.20 o'clock tonight.

The killed are:
George Rothman, aged 50, furniture dealer, Carnegie, Pa.
Fred Heisel, aged 55, glass worker, Carnegie, Pa.
Unknown woman, about 30 years of age, body taken to morgue.

Injured:
Mrs. Michael Foley, Pittsburg, had scalp wound and internal injuries, may die.
Conductor Albert McGuire, aged 35, Pittsburg, scalp wound and internal injuries.
Fred Waddel, motorman, aged 30, Pittsburg, shoulder dislocated.
Michael Foley, Pittsburg, bad scalp wound.
James Foley, aged 7, son of Michael, slightly injured.
Mrs. Leach, Pittsburg, slight injuries.
Henry Stiltz, aged 17, Pittsburg, leg broken.
Prof. Alex Phillips, of Crafton, knee lacerated and may have to be amputated.
Katie Foley, young child, slightly bruised.

The car wrecked was on the Carnegie branch of the West End electric line and left Carnegie at 6 o'clock. Just before the city limit is reached there is a sharp curve and hill along the track for about a quarter of a mile. When the car reached this point the brake rod broke and the motorman lost control. The car dashed down the hill until it reached McCartney street, where there is a sharp curve. Here it jumped the track and turned completely over, landing in a ravine alongside of the road. The car was broken into splinters and the three persons killed were horribly mangled. Just before the car jumped the track Conductor McGuire yelled at the passengers to all fall down to the bottom of the car. Before they obeyed this order, Mrs. Foley dropped her young daughter Katie out of a car window and probably saved the child's life.

As soon as he could extricate himself from the wreck Conductor McGuire, who was badly injured himself, rushed to the houses of several residents in the vicinity and secured several axes and other assistance. As soon as possible the city ambulances were called and all care possible rendered the injured passengers. There were sixteen passengers on the car when it left Carnegie, a suburb of this city. Two got off before the hill where the accident occurred was reached, and three boys jumped before the car leaped the track and were perhaps not injured.

Dates of Farmers' Institutes.

Harrisburg, Oct. 14—Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Hamilton announces the following dates for farmers' institutes in the Western counties:

Centre, January 23; Huntingdon, Feb 5; Bedford, Feb. 7; Blair, Feb. 10; Cambria, Feb. 12; Somerset, Feb. 14; Fayette Feb. 17 Greene, Feb. 19; Washington Feb, 21; Allegheny, Feb, 24; Westmoreland, Feb. 26; Indiana, Feb. 28; Armstrong, March 2; Butler, March 4; Beaver, March 6; Lawrence, March 9, Mercer March 11; Venango, March 13; Crawford, March 16; Erie, March 18; Warren, March 20; Forest, March 23 Clarion, March 25; Jefferson, March 27; Clearfield, March 30.

A considerable reduction has been made in the amount of money allowed to each local manager below that of last year. This has been made necessary because of the reduced appropriation by the Legislature, and partly by the change of plan whereby the department will furnish three and possibly four institute workers to each institute free of expences to the local manager. This aid is expected to much more than compensate for any loss occasioned by the reduced amount of cash the local manager will receive and will tend to strengthen the work in important particulars.

The Ladies' Home Journal Invests:

What is generally conceded in Philadelphia to be one of the most desirable building sites in the city has just been purchased by The Ladies' Home Journal. The property is located at Sixth and Walnut streets which means that it fronts on two of the most beautiful squares in Philadelphia the famous Independence Squares on the south The land acquired includes five properties. On May 1st next, the houses thereon will be torn down to make room for a building costing $250,000, to be solely owned and exclusively occupied by the journal. The building will require two years in its construction.

Cleaning Them Up.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 14.—Joseph Roschino, an Italian, who was convicted at the February term of court of the murder of Frank Confort, a fellow countryman, for whom he laid in wait after a quarrel at Dunmore, was to-day sentenced to be hanged by Judge Gunster. This makes three murderers who are under sentence of death in the Lackawanna county prison.

Dedicated at Gettysburg.

Gettysburg, Pa., Oct. 15.—Veterans of the One Hundred and Forty-third Pennsylvania Regiment this afternoon dedicated their tablet on Hancock avenue. Capt. DeLacey presided at the ceremonies, which were opened by Rev. Asa Warner offering prayer. Miss E. Wynne Blair unveiled the granite memorial and J. Colburn, Jr., delivered the oration. The tablet was transferred to the United States commission by Col. G. N. Reichard, Maj. Robins, of the commission, accepting it.

What

You want of a medicine is that it shall do you good—purify and enrich your blood, throw off that tired feeling, and give you health, strength, courage and ambition.

Hood's

Sarsaparilla is the only true blood purifier prominently in the public eye today, and it meets these requirements perfectly. This is proved by the testimony of thousands of people. Hood's

Sarsaparilla

Builds up the nerves by feeding them on pure blood, creates an appetite by toning the digestive organs, overcomes That Tired Feeling by giving vitality to the blood, and gives sweet refreshing sleep. You may realize that Hood's Sarsaparilla this by giving it a fair trial. Insist upon Hood's and only Hood's. $1; six for $5.

Does

COLLINS' FURNACE TO START.

Ore Mines and Stone Quarries to Run Also.

Collins' furnace will be put in operation next month.

This is the rumor that was secretly current among conservative business men yesterday. This is saying a good bit in a few words. That it is a surprise to almost everybody, there is no question; and owing to the fact that this same thing has been said several times during the last six months no doubt there will be some who still will place little confidence in the report.

How the rumor originated, it is not necessary to tell; but its origin has been traced out and found to be correct unless all present plans fall through. True it is that the principals concerned are very reticent and it is not directly to them that we owe any thanks for the information.

For several years this extensive plant has been lying idle and every day deteriorating in value. Rumor after rumor has been spread stating that it would soon start, but they everyone have proven groundless.

By the latter part of next month over 150 hands will be given employment and there will thus be joy in as many households.

The starting of the furnace means not only men to be employed there, but it means that the mine banks and stone quarries will of course be put in operation also. These ore banks are the Graysdale, Matern, Nittany and Red Bank. When the furnace ceased operations years ago, work at these banks also stopped. Such was the case at the stone quarry. Unless the furnace was going there was no need of quarrying the limestone. Thousands of tons of iron-ore have been mined and are lying at the different ore-banks, and along railroad sidings at various places. The large stock of iron that was on hand when the furnace closed down has been turned into cash, and on Monday the last scrap was cleaned out and shipped away. Iron is away up in price—thus the ready sale for it.

That this furnace has not been put into operation long ago, has been a puzzling question to conservative business men, and while the long-hoped for time has at last arrived it has been a wonder that it has been so long coming. But that it has at last come is a certainty.

Who will control the furnace is a question we do not attempt to answer, although rumor says that it will eventually pass into the hands of the Bellefonte Central Railroad Company. While it may not pass into the hands of this corporation directly, it may possibly do so indirectly—that is, the parties who will be interested in the running of the furnace will be also connected with the Railroad Company.

That it will pass into other hands than from what it is in at the present there is no question, for Thomas Collins has frequently said that the present firm would not resume operations. As to the railroad company assuming control it seems very plansible, for it would be largely to their interests to do so. The great trouble heretofore, it is claimed, has been the railroad rates for shipping; and the two corporations being under one head would thus over come this difficulty.

With iron at such an advance price there is no doubt of the enterprise being successful. The starting of the furnace will be good news to every business man in Bellefonte, as it means thousands of dollars paid out in wages every month; and when people have the money they spend it at Bellefonte's business places. Everybody will be benefitted by these works resuming operations and it is to be hoped there will be no more excuses for dull times.

In the old firm, the Collins' owned the majority of the stock of the furnace and under the new management which is to take charge Nov. 1st the bonded indebtedness will be considerably decreased. It is the intention to commence operations on the first of the month and to be making iron by the 15th.

No better location for making foundry iron could be found in the state than can be had in Bellefonte. Everything that could be wanted is right at hand. While central points furnaces cannot compete with lake shore and tide water industries owing to shipping rates, they cannot be touched on foundry iron. The iron-ore and lime stone is close at hand thus saving the trouble and expense of having it shipped from a distance.

That the furnace will prosper under the new management there is no question as the parties taking charge are shrewd business men who will make it pay if such a thing is possible. There is no reason why our furnaces cannot prosper in Bellefonte if another one can; and the success with which the Valentine company has been meeting with lend great encouragement to the new management of the Collins' Furnace Co.

Killed by Her Lover.

Easton, O., Oct. 13.—Gertrude Lally, 19 years old, was shot dead by her lover, John Monosmith, last night. She was employed in the millinery establishment of F. P. Bloomfield, and Monosmith's jealousy had become aroused by the fact that Bloomfield frequently escorted he home. Last night she quarreled with Monosmith in the public square, but rode away on her wheel, and at 11 o'clock he started in the direction of her home. Near the place he fired a shot in the air from his revolver and entered the gate. When she appeared at the doorway and asked what was wanted he told her he wanted to see her, but she insisted upon waiting until some other time.

He said if she would have nothing to do with him he would kill her, and fired one shot and the girl fell unconscious to the ground. Thinking she was dead, he threw her cape over her head and started away, when the girl's mother ran from the house screaming. Monosmith was heard to say that if she was not careful he would give her some of the same kind. She ran behind a tree and Monosmith went away. He went to his home, told his mother of the crime and said that he wanted the shotgun to shoot himself. His mother wrenched the gun from him. He went to the home of Sheriff Johnson and surrendered. Miss Lally lived only a few minutes after being carried into the house.

Alice Haswell not Abducted.

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 14.—Mrs. Haswell, the second wife of the late W. J. Haswell, has made a statement that clears up the mystery of the supposed abduction of Alice Haswell. Mrs. Haswell says that Alice is in reality the child of W. J. Haswell by his first wife. Estelle Hammill, whom he married in Kansas City. She died in San Francisco and just before coming to New Castle, Haswell resided for a while at the Windsor hotel, in Pittsburg. The child's dress, which is said to have been marked "S. S. Windsor," simply bore the mark "88 Windsor," the laundry mark of the hotel. Mrs. Haswell adds that after the death of her husband at Canfield O., Dr. Campbell who had attended him in his illness wished to take Alice, and she has been with him ever since although he has never legally adopted her.

At the Exposition.

The incidents of the parade preceding the dedication of the Tennessee Centenial Exposition at Nashville demonstrated how deeply interested the city is in the enterprise. Between 40,000 and 50,000 people thronged the sidewalks along the line of march to witness the passing of the elaborate civic and military pageant. The Mayor of the city had declared a half holiday, banks and business places were closed, and houses were bedecked in flags, bunting and evergreens. The utmost enthusiasm was shown all along the line of march, and the great Exposition that is to be was formally launched with the absolute and perfect indorsement of a whole people.

Coughs, * Consumption.

The greatest cause of terror of the present day, formerly considered hopeless, is now conceded by the best physicians as curable under proper conditions. Its cause—a depleted condition of the system; a mal-assimilation of food; a wasting away of the tissues; an impoverishment of the blood. The result—a diseased condition of all the organs of the body; a formation of eating ulcers; and the result death from collapse or hemorrhage. But the cure is that greatest concentration into the least possible bulk of the vital elements of lean, raw beef. It is absorbed and nourishes with the least possible effort on the part of the stomach. It creates new tissue, enriches the blood, makes flesh, and by strengthening the great vital centres of the body enables them to perform their functions in a natural manner, and dispel disease. Thousands owe their life to its use.

DOWN TO HARD WORK.

Good Results from the Republican State Committee Meeting.

TRYING TO GET A FULL VOTE

Heretofore It Has Shrunk Thirty-one Per Cent. in Off Years.

AN INTERESTING COMPARISON.

Party Men Will Take Off Their Coats and Endeavor to Bring It Up Above the Average—A Unanimity of Spirit Brought About by the First Meeting of the Organization—Members Return Home Pleased With the Outlook.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The meeting of the Republican state committee held at the headquarters in this city last week has had the effect of putting new life and vigor into the rank and file of the party. All of the members of the committee are hard working, practical Republicans, and the plan of bringing them together for the purpose of an interchange of views and ideas has been eminently successful. Chairman Quay and Executive Chairman Leach had an opportunity of meeting the members face to face, and the brief personal chats did more good than reams of correspondence. The whole affair was in the nature of an experience meeting. The members go back to their counties with the determination to bring out as large a vote on tr possible. Already letters have been received at the headquarters which go to prove the good effects of the gathering. One man writes: "I have made a report of the state committee meeting to the members of our county committee, and as a result of this special committees are to be appointed to get out the vote in every voting precinct."

SHRINKAGE IN OFF YEARS.

One thing the members of the committee realize, and that is the shrinkage in the total vote that always takes place in state treasurers' years, or "off years," as they are popularly called. The following table, prepared with some care, shows interesting results. In it the Republican vote for state treasurer since that office has been elective, covering a period of twenty years, is contrasted with the Republican vote for president during the same decade. The presidential vote, with pluralities, is as follows:

1872	349,589	187,748
1876	384,148	17,944
1880	444,704	37,276
1884	473,804	81,019
1888	526,091	74,458
1892	516,011	63,747

The Republican vote for state treasurer, the pluralities and the per cent. shrinkage in total vote in off years is as follows:

	Vote.	Plurality	Per Ct. Shrinkage.
1873	244,823	25,352	30
1875	392,875	9,725	13½
1877	241,816	D. maj. 2,901	37
1879	280,153	58,438	27
1881	265,293	6,822	40¾
1883	321,050	20,051	27¾
1885	324,994	43,516	31½
1887	385,514	45,245	18¾
1889	341,214	60,806	35
1891	412,904	54,377	21½
1893	452,248	136,146	14¼

Average Republican vote the past twenty years for state treasurer, 323,879.

Average Republican plurality the past twenty years for state treasurer, 40,879.

Average shrinkage in total vote in off years the past twenty years, contrasting the vote with the year following a presidential election, about 31.37 per cent.

CHAIRMAN QUAY'S IDEAS.

It is not out of place here to recall Chairman Quay's remarks at the meeting of the state committee. He said:

"I have called this meeting because, first, I desire to make personal acquaintance of the members; second, that an understanding might be arrived at in relation to the duties of the committee which would prevent the unhappy occurrences recently witnessed; third, because I desire information from all of you as to the exact condition of affairs in the different counties of this state which you fittingly represent; fourth, because it is necessary that steps be taken, and promptly, for the financial support of the campaign, and, fifth, because I desire your approval of a procedure which might probably look like usurpation—the appointment of an executive committee.

"It was my thought that the state committee might with profit be modeled as to its powers and duties upon the national committee. The national committee has the right to appoint an executive committee. I think it is composed of nine members, who shall be members of the national committee, or not connected with it. The importance of such an organization consists of the unwieldiness of the committee and the difficulty of members promptly assembling. For that reason during the national campaign the executive committee alone sits at headquarters daily, the national committee being rarely called together except at the inauguration of the campaign."

Mr. Quay's idea of the executive committee, of which Mr. Leach is chairman, was unanimously approved.

THE PARTY OF REFORM.

That the Republican party is the party of reform was attested by the fact that a resolution offered by John Russell Young was unanimously adopted. It provides for the appointment of a committee of five to draft resolutions to carry out the reform plank in the state platform. One of the members of the committee, speaking of this, said:

"No one can read the proceedings of the meeting of the Republican state committee without being convinced that Senator Quay was in earnest when he presented to the state convention the reform platform.

"That platform goes further in the line of political reform than the professional reformers have even dared hint at. Political regeneration would be peculiarly Pennsylvania's were that platform to be enacted into legislation. Extended to the nation, the whole political system would be purified.

"It has pleased the enemies of Senator Quay to sneer at a movement which he has inaugurated. Yet the movement was adopted by the state convention, and the state committee, with a very full attendance, provided for a committee to draft into bills the reforms demanded by the platform. These bills will be reported to the next legislature. Candidates will be asked to pledge themselves to the principles of the platform, and then it will rest with the Republican voters of Pennsylvania whether reform candidates shall be elected."

THE best investment in real estate is to keep buildings well painted. Paint protects the house and saves repairs. You sometimes want to sell—many a good house has remained unsold for want of paint. The rule should be, though, "the best paint or none." That means

Strictly Pure White Lead

You cannot afford to use cheap paints. To be sure of getting Strictly Pure White Lead, look at the brand; any of these are safe:

"Armstrong & McKelvy,"

Church Work at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Oct. 11.—The attack in the board of missions—the bishops and deputies sitting jointly—last night by Bishop Neely on the administration of church affairs in Alaska, his charge that for expenditure of $12,000 per annum for years past there was practically nothing to show, his insinuation that there was nothing behind the latest movements to elect a bishop of Alaska, and his unspoken denunciation by name of the present Alaskan missionaries created an episode unprecedented in the general convention of the Episcopal church for the last half century. The effect will be felt for years to come.

The deputies generally deplored the episode and the feeling was made manifest immediately after morning prayer, through a resolution submitted by G. C. Thomas, of Philadelphia, providing that the board of missions continue its consideration of the Alaskan question with closed doors. This was lost, the ballot standing 125 to 133 against.

Both houses spent the day upon the revised constitution. A resolution was submitted calling for a full report from the commission on revision on Monday. This brought out the statement from Dean Hoffman, the spokeman of the commission, that the body did not expect to have a constitution adopted at this convention.

A resolution providing for final adjournment on Oct. 18 was referred. The house by a vote of 193 to 60, decided to give the missionary delegates the right of all other delegates when a vote by dioceses was taken.

After being amended by Mr. Burgwin, of Pittsburg, section first of article second was adopted, providing for triennial conventions.

The clause providing that the presiding officer of the house of bishops shall be senior in service was adopted by the deputies by a large majority. After this a veto was given to the word "primate," as indorsed by the bishops.

The upper house recommended Washington for the next meeting place. The house concurred by unanmous vote and then adjourned.

The bishops to day followed the example of the lower house by laying on the table the solemn declaration of faith, which served as a preface to the revised constitution.

The board of regents of the church university is constituted as follows: Bishops of Albany, Minnesota and Kentucky, Rev. E. N. Potter, Dr. M. Dix, D. H. Green, W. R. Huntingdon, Prof. Dresler, G. W. Vanderbilt, S. McBee and N. Garnett, Rev. H. C. Duncan, of Louisiana was appointed recorder of ordinations (a new office and title), to the missionary bishops of Oklahoma and Indiana Territory.

A resolution to send a bishop to Alaska was adopted by a rising vote. Ayes, noes 37. Adjournment followed.

Bishop Neely at to-night's session apologized to the Alaskan missionary for his structure on the latter made in the heat of debate, but opposed any large appropriation for missionary work in that field.

Bates Case Reviewed.

Butler, Pa., Oct. 11.—The Bates case was taken up by the Pittsburg synod of the Reformed church to day. Rev. W. H. Bates, now of Philadelphia, but formerly of Jonstown, was tried last spring by the Westmoreland classis, convicted of immorality and suspended from the ministry. He appealed the case to the Pittsburg synod. Rev. Leighton Gerhart, of Bellefonte, appeared as counsel for Mr. Bates. With closed doors the synod went over the testimony before the classis. Rev. Dr. Dieffenbacher, of Greensburg, and C. M. Boush, of Meadville, defended the action of classis. The decision of the synod will likely be given out to-morrow morning.

The Board of Foreign Missions reported that the Reformed church has now 11 missionaries in Japan, a college, theological seminary and a good school at Sendia, in the north of the empire, at an expense of $30,000 last year. Rev. Drs. Rupp and Bowman, of Franklin and Marshall Theological Seminary, of Lancaster, addressed the synod in behalf of that institution.

Still in Session.

Minneapolis, Minn., October 10.—Despite the fact the Episcopal deputies have refused social invitations without number, from the fact that they have upon the calendar business enough to keep them in session for a month to come, while the convention must terminate on the 21st or thereabouts, they were afraid of incurring the displeasure of the good people across the Mississippi, and so the transaction of business was dispensed with this afternoon and the visitors were driven about St. Paul by a committee of its citizens. To make up for the lost time, the houses of bishops and deputies met jointly at 6.30 to-night as the general missionary board of the church for the purpose of considering the condition of missions in Alaska.

This morning's session of the house was unrelieved by any interesting developments save that the element which seeks to refer the revision of the constitution to a new commission received an inglorious setback at the very start by Dr. Morgan Dix refusing to recognize it as in order so long as the revision is before the house.

A somewhat significant vote was that refusing to strike out section 3, the "Primate" section, concerning which there was so much debate on yesterday, and a further salient point was the refusal of the house to concur in that clause of the revision which reduces the representation in the house of deputies from four clergymen and four deputies to three of each. The bishops also had sent down the same clause, but the deputies were not in favor of reduced representation, the bishops and the commission to the contrary notwithstanding.

Say "whip Lashes" Were Absent.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 10.—A suit for $10,000 damages was brought against the Reading Railroad company to-day by the widow of Franklin B. Molt. The latter was employed as a brakeman on the road and was killed by an overhead bridge near Tuckerton last September. Damages are claimed on the ground of carelessness and contributary negligence of the company in not having "whip lashes" placed near the structure to guard employes from being struck.

Tragedy on a Scranton Street.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 9.—Edward P. Roach shot his wife, Fannie, on the street here last night, and then shot himself. He died instantly and the woman was taken to the Lackawanna hospital, where the surgeons say she cannot recover. They have lived here about a year, and, it is said, were of unsavory reputation. They had just emerged from a saloon when the shooting occurred. No cause is known for the deed.

A Narrow Escape.

While workmen from Maitland's boiler works were making repairs at the Gas house on Friday, William Hogarth had an experience that nearly cost him his life. It seemed that they were repairing a boiler and to do this they had to fill it with fire. Hogarth was standing on an arch over this boiler when it gave away under him and he fell down into this seething mass of flames. Samuel Sprankle happened to be near at the time and quickly grabbed Hogarth and pulled him out of danger thus saving him from a horrible fate.

Repairing the Infant Department.

On Monday workmen will commence to make repairs in the infant department of the Methodist Sunday school room. The partition will be torn out and the two class rooms will be thrown into one large room. The new room will be papered and painted and after it is finished will present a handsome appearance.

BOUNDARY LINE TO BE FOUND

The Old Line Has Been Lost and the Boundary Has Been in Dispute for Many Years.

At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed authorizing courts and county commissioners to appoint men to settle disputed boundary lines. The boundary line between Centre and Huntingdon counties, running from Pennsylvania Furnace eastward to the point where Centre, Huntingdon and Mifflin counties meet, has been unsettled for many years; and under this act of the legislature the courts and commissioners of Centre and Huntingdon counties appointed four men to settle this disputed line. These four men were to elect a fifth. E. R. Chambers was appointed by the Centre county court, and Harry Byers of Clearfield was elected by the Centre County Commissioners. J. Murray Africa was selected by the Huntingdon County Court, and W. P. Mitchell of Clinton county, was chosen by the commissioners of Huntingdon. These four men elected D. F. A. Wheelock of Warren as the fifth man of the committee.

A meeting of the men was held at the office of E. R. Chambers on Friday to make final preparations for commencing work on Monday Oct 13. It seem that in 1853 the boundary line between these two counties was located and marked by a commission under the act of the Legislature. The monuments and markings they put up have been destroyed and lost and the exact position of the line is not known at the present time. The mission of this new committee will be not to lay out a new boundary but to find the old line and mark it.

As related above they started out on Monday and it is expected that they will have to camp out in the wood for a month as it is thought it will take that long to finish the work.

A Fatal Wreck.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 9.—The train wrecked at Manor station on the Pennsylvania railroad to-night was mail train No. 13, which left Philadelphia at 7 o'clock this morning and was due in Pittsburg at 8.10 p. m. Only one person was killed, a conductor of a freight train, but from ten to fifteen of the passengers of the mail train were injured. The accident occurred at 7.45 this evening. The last car but one of the mail train jumped the track and, swinging around, struck a freight train that was standing on an adjoining track. The conductor of the freight was killed and several of the passengers coaches were thrown over an embankment and from ten to fifteen of the passengers are reported seriously injured.

Fatal Accident at Renovo.

A sad accident occurred at Renovo yesterday evening, which resulted in the death of Robert McCoy, an employee of the railroad company. McCoy after quitting his work at 5 o'clock in the evening, went to Drury's Run to attend to some business affairs, and when near that place was run over by the cars. Both of his legs were cut off by the car wheels, one above the ankle and the other at the knee. He was taken to his home at Renovo, but died from the effects of his injuries in about two hours after the accident occurred.—Lock Haven Evening Express.

Keeping It Up.

And the school children still continue to run the streets at night. Thursday evening they were tearing around like a pack of young colts. At every corner they could be seen up until a late hour. If parents would only think over the matter they would see that it is hurtful to their children to let them run around this way at night. It surely can do them no good as they go every place where what they hear and see is certainly not beneficial to the young mind.

An All-Around Change.

The Centre Democrat appears this week completely changed around. Instead of running its local news on the first and eighth pages, it has interspersed its locals throughout the whole paper. It has practically done away with what is known as the "inside" of a paper which makes the sheet much more neater. It is a big improvement over his former edition and Editor Kurtz is to be complimented on the good result.

Local Department.

—A refreshing rain Friday night cleaned up our streets around town.

—John Emory wants it understood that he is a first-class house cleaner and carpet beater.

—Associate Judge Benj. Rich is unable to attend court this week as he is still confined to his home with sickness.

—Looping suckers is a favorite pastime for the boys out of school-hours just now. Some large catches have been made.

—The flowers in the lawn of the P. R. R. passenger station were removed Thursday morning by flagman Kathcart.

—When one of the boys from the Y. M. C. A. tackles you for a dollar, don't refuse him as it is for a worthy cause.

—Isaac Haupt has raised some of the finest apples we have seen yet this season. He is picking over sixty bushels a day.

—At the State Sabbath School Association in Williamsport, General James A. Beaver was elected a district president.

—We are pleased to state that Fred Montgomery has so far recovered as to be driven out on Sunday for a few moments.

—Apples are being shipped from Bellefonte by the car load. Forty cents per bushel is what they sold at in carload lots last week.

—Do you subscribe for the DAILY NEWS? If you do, you are to be congratulated. If you don't you deserve the sympathy of everybody.

—Manny Green has opened up a restaurant in the room formerly occupied by Cal. Green, under Dr. Dobbins' office, on High street.

—The funeral of the infant child of William Curry, of Pleasant Gap, was held Sunday. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery, at this place.

—Let us send you the DAILY NEWS. It is only 10 cents a week. We will guarantee it the best investment you ever made. Try it and be convinced like many are doing every day.

—A sociable was held at the residence of Joseph Fox on East Bishop street Thursday evening by the members of the Catholic church. From all accounts it was a very successful affair.

—Judge A. O. Furst was selected at the Huntingdon Presbytery which met at Port Royal, a commissioner to the synod. Dr. William Laurie, D. D., was elected a ministerial delegate to the synod.

—The man who borrowed an overcoat and forgot to return it is in luck just now. We wish we had done the same as freezing to death is said to be not one of the pleasantest sensations ever experienced.

—It is reported that there will be a wedding on Linn street that will surprise everybody. Probably the one near Linn street—that was to be—is now a thing of the past. 'Tis hard to die so young?

—Commissioners' Clerk Robert F. Hunter accompanied by his wife departed on Saturday evening for Philadelphia. Mrs. Hunter stayed in the Quaker city and Mr. H. returned home Monday morning.

—The music the Presbyterian church Sunday was exceptionally good. A fine solo was rendered by J. P. Maxwell of Beaver Falls. Mr. Maxwell possesses a rich baritone and his singing was much appreciated by the large congregation present.

—Bellefonte merchants are commencing to realize that it pays to talk to the people through the columns of the DAILY NEWS. It goes into almost every household in town and thus their wares are constantly being brought before the eyes of the people.

—Editors Harter of the Gazette and Kurtz of the Centre Hall Reporter arrived home on Saturday from a fishing excursion to Hummels wharf near Shamokin. They brought back a fine string of fish among which was a 28 inch Susquehanna Salman.

—David Bartley, who lives on Willowbank street, has the contract to furnish the timber and do the carpenter work for the German Reformed church at Centre Hall. He has already been working there for five weeks and expects to be there four weeks longer. The masonary work is being done under the direction of Contractor John Noll, also of this place.

—Considerable excitement was caused on Allegheny street about seven o'clock Thursday evening by the plug being blown out of a steam pipe. Dense volumes of steam escaped, and passers-by at first thought it to be a volcano. The leak was however repaired in a few moments much to the relief of the nearby residents.

—Among a lot of applicants for naturalization papers at Easton the other day was an Italian named Frank Candias, when asked who was president of the United States replied: "A Democrat." When asked was was governor of Pennsylvania he provoked a laugh by replying: "Geo. Washington." That was enough for the court and Frank is not an American citizen.

TO PURCHASE MORE LAND.

A Meeting Held on Saturday Afternoon to Transact Business.

On Saturday afternoon a meeting of the Lot-Holders of the Bellefonte cemetery association was held at Beaver and Dale's law office. Stewart Lyon was elected chairman of the meeting after which officers for the corporation were elected.

John P. Harris was elected president, Gen. J. A. Beaver, Clement Dale, Chas. Cruse, C. F. Cook and William P. Humes were elected managers of the corporation after which this meeting adjourned.

A meeting of the president and the board of managers was then held. J. M. Dale was elected secretary and treasurer of the association. The condition of the affairs was discussed and it was found that the corporation was badly in need of funds. This fact was owing to the failure of lot holders to pay for their lots. Some of them had paid part of the amount of purchase and failed to pay the balance; while others had paid nothing whatever. The secretary was notified to collect from these lot-holders and if they did not pay up promptly to commence legal proceedings to effect payment. Gen. Beaver, Clement Dale and C. F. Cook were selected as a committee to prepare by-laws for the association and to report at the next meeting. Jerry Shutt was re-elected superintendent of the cemetery for another year from the time of this meeting. Jerry has given the best of satisfaction since he had charge of the grounds and has kept them in better condition than any other person who had charge of them. Every lot-holder wants the grounds in a good condition and they should come around and pay their purchase funds.

It was decided to purchase more land as the present site is getting too small for use. The site of purchase has as yet not been decided. The owners of the land near the cemetery want such an outrageous price for it that buying it is almost out of the question. Another site is under consideration which will not cost so much yet it is a very desirable location and this may probably be purchased if the price of the land near the cemetery remains up so high.

A Hint to Young Men.

Alas, how prevalent are those dread diseases which make men prematurely aged, pale, listless, low spirited, languid, easily tired, forgetful and incapable; fill mad-houses and swell the lists of suicides; separate husbands and wives; bring untold suffering to millions, even unto the third and fourth generation.

A complete and scientific treatise on these ailments, prepared by an association of medical men who have had vast experience in their treatment and great success in their cure, will be mailed in plain sealed envelope, secure from observation, to any sufferer sending ten cents (the cost of postage), enclosed with this notice to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Where Were the Police?

About half-past ten o'clock Saturday evening two colored individuals raised quite an excitement by indulging in a loud mouth scrap which attracted a big crowd completely blockading the street in front of the Brockerhoff house. These disturbances are getting entirely too numerous and should not be tolerated, especially when two policemen are employed to prevent such occurrences. During the disturbance on Saturday evening the police were less than a square away at their usual loafing place, yet the participaters in the scrap were left go for some time before an officer made his appearance and dispersed the crowd. A policeman's place is on the street and not in an arm chair in a hotel.

Whose Dog Is It?

A large black and white dead dog has been lying on the falls in Spring creek near the steam laundry. The borough authorities should not allow such a thing as this to happen as it is an unsightly object in direct view of passers-by on High street. A very little work would have removed this filthy thing, yet it has already been there almost a week and from all appearances there no intention of removing it. It is certainly not a thing of beauty and the odors that arise from it are not as quite as fragrant cologne.

Had His Hand Mangled.

On Monday afternoon Alexander McCoy was husking corn at his farm in Potters Mills. While feeding the corn husker he had the misfortune to have his glove caught in the machine thus drawing his whole hand into the cog wheels. The machine was stopped as soon as possible and when Mr. Alexander was able to draw his hand out he found that several of his fingers had been torn off and his hand otherwise terribly mangled.

Letter List.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte P. O. uncalled for Oct. 14, 1895.

Miss Alexander, Mary A. Baney, Mrs. E. J. Cook, Mary Cleveland, Mary Heberling, Thos. Jours, M. Kurtz, Mary Lutz, Edith Diamond, Mrs. Wm. M. Foreman, Sam'l Fairl, Miss T. Miller, Rob't. McFadden, Katie Sigman, W. G. Swabb.

When called for please say advertised.
D. F. FORTNEY, P. M.

Open for Congratulations.

On Sunday evening a bright and bouncing baby boy came to live at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, on Allegheny street. The young Mr. Moore has already shown quite a liking for photography.

—Every 102 Use Jackson's Fancy Patent.

—Tyrone will have three mail-carriers

—Have you bought a snow shovel, yet? If you haven't you will soon have to.

—Several flakes of the beautiful were floating in the air on Wednesday evening.

—Spring street has been added to the list of thorough fares that are undergoing repairs.

—Jesse Dawson, the mail porter for the P. R. R. Co is sporting a new winter railroad cap.

—Cold weather is at hand and Bellefonte is as usual getting her regular share of the tramp patronage.

—North Allegheny street is considerably torn up at present as workmen are repairing defective gas pipes.

—We extend our many thanks to the kind individual who returned our over-coat on Monday evening.

—Orders have been given that the Sunbury shops are, commencing with Wednesday to run ten hours a day.

—Now that the foot-ball season is at hand Bellefonte barbers will have to take a rest fer several months.

—Centre county papers are fighting the civil war over again, we wonder whether they will demand pensions for their services too.

—The school boy is getting his skates ready for winter. It is too bad there is no suitable place for skating near Bellefonte.

—Several plank in the bridge on the race near the P. R. R. passenger station are out of repair and should be fixed at once.

—It is reported that Lock Haven and Mill Hall capitalists will erect a soap factory at the latter place in the near future.

—The pay train over the Lewisburg and Montandon road, was in Bellefonte Tuesday making the employees of the road happy.

—Apples are being shipped from Bellefonte by the car load. They command a fair price; hand picked ones being at a premium.

—Eddie Brown had the misfortune to fall while playing on Monday afternoon and broke his right arm between the wrist and elbow.

—Isaac Hanpt is raising some fine apples. He has the maiden blush, baldwin and pound-apples. People will do well to purchase them while they are cheap.

—Workmen are busily engaged in removing the old paint from the residence of Mrs. William P. Willson, on High street, preparatory to putting on a new coat.

—Manager Garman says that only first-class attractions will appear at the Opera house this winter. So far such has been the result and if it is not the case in the future it will not be the fault of the management.

—One of the most extensive advertisers in Bellefonte is Cruse the cigar manufacturer. He is pushing his famous "Crusader" rapidly to the front. It has already made a big hit.—Cruse has found out that in order to have you wares come before the people one must advertise in the DAILY NEWS.

—If the person who stole the dollar bill from the DAILY NEWS office would be so kind as to bring it back long enough for us to get another look at it, he would have our many thanks. We don't know when we will see another one, and we would like to have at least a faint recollection of what the only one we ever had looked like.

Funeral of Mrs. Toot.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Toot, of Reynold's avenue, were held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the Evangelical church, Rev. G. E. Zehner, officiating. The funeral was largely attended as the deceased was widely known in the neighborhood in which she lived. The pall bearers were Samuel Williams, Abram Lukenbach, William Straub, Wash Reese, James Harris and William Long.

Interment was made in the Union cemetery after the services at the church were concluded.

Received his Appointment.

On Wednesday Dr. O. W. McEntire of Howard, received the papers appointing him to fill the vacancy as medical examiner in the Pension board, caused by the departure of Dr. H. K. Hoy. The appointment was a great surprise to Bellefonters as there were two other aspirants for the appointment. However it is in good hands and no doubt Dr. McEntire will fill the position with great success.

A Success.

The new folder which has lately been placed in the Centre Democrat office has proven to be a complete success in every particular. It cuts, pastes and folds the papers with a rapidity such as can only be secured from the most improved machinery.

Ladies Come.

You want to see the Ladies' Department in Aiken's Music Store. It is fine. The largest and most Select Stock ever brought to Bellefonte. All New Styles. Coats from $2 to 20; Capes from $3 to $30. All can be suited. o10-4t

TO RAISE THE MONEY.

The Y. M. C. A. to be Put on a Firm Basis.

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting was that held on Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. in the Court house. The meeting was exclusively for men, and the large number present was a very encouraging showing to the new president.

J. W. Gephart presided over the meeting and had as his subject "Gideon and his army of 300." Mr. Gephart made a very interesting address and the plans he mapped out were to raise sufficient funds to wipe out the present debt of the association and put it on a firm basis. His plan of operation was to have 100 boys each raise $10 among their friends and the citizens around town. This would amount to $1,000, and would set the association on a firmer basis than it has ever been before.

Mr. Gephart in speaking of the future success of the association work said that it depended what the boys did to help it along. He also made special reference to the good work already done by Secretary Cota and continuing said that almost any other man in town could go away and the loss not be felt as much as it would be if Mr. Cota should leave Bellefonte. Mr. Gephart said it would be almost impossible to do anything without Mr. Cota's good influence among our young men.

Lecture Next Friday Evening.

Rev. R. H. Gilbert, of Tyrone, will deliver a lecture in the Court house next Friday evening, Oct. 18th. Subject "Stepping Upward." NO CHARGE FOR ADMISSION, NOT EVEN A COLLECTION TAKEN The lecture will be free to everybody Rev. Gilbert is known to most of our people, he having addressed several large audiences on the occasion of the Y. M. C. A. anniversary. It is through the efforts of this organization that Mr. Gilbert has been induced to deliver this interesting and highly instructive lecture. Everybody, ladies and gentlemen should go to hear him. The Court house should be crowded.

Enforce the Law.

The ordinance that prohibits the cows from running the streets at large is not being carried out very rigidly. At almost any hour of the day you can see cows roaming around the Academy lawn. They not only destroy the surroundings but they scare little children who go to school and are compelled to pass them on the way. The cows should be locked up and then probably the owners of them would be a little more careful in seeing that they were not left to stray around town. It is the duty of the high constable to pen up these animals that are found around the streets and he should do what is ordered to do by the council.

Death of Mrs. Boalich.

Monday night at 12 o'clock Mrs. Ruth Boalich died after a lingering illness at her home at Axe Mann. She had been ailing for some time from a complication of diseases and death coming was a great relief to her. The deceased was 65 years old at the time of her death. She leaves three children to mourn her death. One daughter is married to John Rote, at Axe Mann, and the other one is at home. The son is living at Hemet, California.

The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning from the late residence of the deceased and interment will be made in the Lutheran cemetery at Pleasant Gap.

Horse Stolen.

A dark bay with a white speck on forehead weight about 1200 lbs. One white foot behind. No shoes on in front; about 3½ years old and high headed. The horse was stolen on Monday evening from the field of William Tressler at Fillmore. Man suspicioned has brown moustach, blue eyes, was well dressed, about 5½ ft high and is about 25 or 30 years old; wore soft black hat and dark suit. A reward of $5 will be paid for the apprehension of the thief and the return of the horse to the owner. Any information relating to the horse is be communicated to William Tressler at Fillmore, Centre Co. Pa.

He Pushed the Good Thing Along.

On Friday a Centre county farmer walked into the NEWS sanctum and laying down a five dollar bill said: "Send me the DAILY NEWS until that runs out. It is always a welcome visitor in my household." After we had recovered from our surprise—at receiving the five—we took our friend over to the Bush House for dinner. We hope his brother will come and see us also, and for that matter his whole connection if they are made of the same kind of material as this one was made of.

A Country Style.

Many people around Bellefonte have received invitations to a chicken and waffle supper to be given next week. The invitation is very much similar to the kind sent out for dances. In beautiful language you are cordially invited to attend this supper and at the bottom of the invitation is printed "Subscription 50 cents." This style may be all right out in the ridges, but it won't go in Bellefonte.

Oyster Supper.

The ladies of the Evangelical church will hold an oyster supper in the basement of the church next Friday and Saturday evenings. There will be ice cream, coffee, cakes and other eatables suitable to the occasion. Everybody is invited to attend.
